

“Biofeedback – International Licenses”

This course is available from providers listed below. IMUNE does not operate this course. IMUNE has:

- Established a reference core syllabus
- Operates an on line assessment process
- Issues an International License in Biofeedback (Quantum Biofeedback)
- Provides some supplementary Unconscious Biofeedback support material.

In addition to International Licenses IMUNE will issue appropriate credits for continuing education/professional development.

General Description:

Stress is a recognized and major feature of health issues. Biofeedback is an established and recognized modality whose concepts and principles form the basis for many devices that facilitate stress reduction. The understanding of biofeedback is essential to all health professionals who work with stress.

Conventional biofeedback operates principally through the conscious mind using feedback parameters such as GSR, EEG, EMG, temperature, respiratory rate and is based on classical body models.

Advanced biofeedback uses the understanding of body operation from a quantum biology perspective and interacts with the unconscious- which is responsible for the vast majority of our enormously complex operation. Advances in electronic and computer technology have enabled these concepts to be implemented in devices in the last decade.

An understanding of both conventional and unconscious biofeedback is essential when working with any biofeedback approach.

This module is to present the multi-dimensional concepts of conscious and unconscious biofeedback and the significant differences between them. It will include theoretical and clinical application aspects.

The application of quantum physics to higher levels of biofeedback will be presented including the concept and application of subspace or virtual biofeedback. Advanced biofeedback will be illustrated by reference to the EPFX/SCIO/QXCI device.

Prerequisites

There are no prerequisites for this module. The unconscious element makes reference to the EPFX-SCIO device as a specific illustration and some familiarity is beneficial but not essential.

Goal Statements:

An understanding of:

- The theory and application principles of both Conventional Conscious Biofeedback and Advanced Unconscious Biofeedback concepts
- Approaches and devices used in conventional biofeedback
- The clinical application for conventional biofeedback
- The quantum concepts underpinning advanced biofeedback
- The electrophysiology basis for the practical application of advanced biofeedback
- Specific electrophysiology used in the advanced EPFX/SCIO biofeedback system..
- Integration of Advanced Biofeedback into a complete stress reduction model. .

Qualifications:

The following qualifications can be achieved by course completion and examination.

IMUNE (International Medical University of Natural Education):

- IMUNE International License -Biofeedback- via 2 on line exams (Conscious, Unconscious) with a pass mark of 85%. (Distinction at 95%)
- Upgrade from NBCB Biofeedback Certificate by passing the Unconscious exam.

This module and exam are also part of the requirements for:

- IMUNE International License - Quantum Biofeedback Therapist
- IMUNE International License - Quantum Biofeedback Technician

Assessment Methods:

IMUNE - Online Examination- 2 part (Conscious, Unconscious) and proof of study.

Course Work

Conscious element: any course that is accepted by the NBCB should contain suitable learning material. Non NBCB accredited course providers can apply to IMUNE for listing.

Unconscious Element: this element has not (as at June 2006) been incorporated in the majority of biofeedback training courses. To support this aspect a support resource listing and some additional learning documents have been compiled. Courses that to date incorporate the unconscious element are listed below- it is anticipated that all providers below will have this facility shortly- please contact the course provider direct to assess.

Course Providers

IMUNE does not approve course providers but does list below providers who have reviewed their course content against the IMUNE syllabus and advised that the material is covered.

Course Format

IMUNE accepts the following forms of learning-

- Classroom
- Web based
- Home study DVD/ textual

It is strongly recommended that students take a course where there is the opportunity for tutor interaction.

IMUNE requires a study statement when applying for the examination to try and ensure that you will be able to pass the exam.

Syllabus

This lists the core topics- additional may be included. The conventional biofeedback syllabus is set out to be consistent with NBCB requirements. The unconscious syllabus has been developed by IMUNE and validated by Dr W Nelson.
