This information is to help educators (trainers and educators) to understand the possibilities for them in the IMUNE process.

Student Courses and Qualifications

Please see the Information for Students document which will provide an understanding of what is on offer for them.

Trainers and Educators Role

The immediate focus is technical and application competence- delivered in Basic (Beginners), Intermediate and Advanced Training. It leads to IMUNE International Licensing Biofeedback, Quantum Biofeedback Practitioner, Quantum Biofeedback Therapist.

In order to achieve this and to meet QX/Ecllosion requirements:

- Independent Trainers needs to be Licensed.
- An Educational Organisation that offers training needs to use a Licensed Trainer.

There is a grandfathering process for established trainers with a little effort required to ensure that the essential knowledge is there and is taught.

There is also a grandfathering process for established users: brokers and educators are requested to make some effort and advise this (preferably via IMUNE) to their users/students.

We then start to get the solid educational base in place that will help with future regulation.

It is also recommended by QX that education is distinctly separate from sales: via a separate organisation and one in which the sales organisation does not have a commercial interest. The sales organisation can issue vouchers for redemption. This is deemed especially important in the USA/ Canada.

The next foci are:

- Education Organisations Accreditation with IMUNE
- Ongoing education
- Expert Education
- Specialist Modules

Education Organisations Accreditation with IMUNE

The instigator of IMUNE (Dr W Nelson) is particularly that IMUNE and Educational Organisations formally recognise and associate with IMUNE via Accreditation. A document of Accreditation is available for consideration.

Ongoing Education

There is a wealth of expertise now available amongst users.

There are on line modules, DVD's, Seminar Presentations, specific classes offered in specific topic areas.

It is beneficial for students (who need ongoing education in its own right and for CEU's for license renewal) and for educators (to generate higher enrolment) that:

1. As a minimum modules and seminars etc. offer IMUNE CEU's.
2. That they be structured wherever possible to form part of an IMUNE higher qualification (see expert/specialist below)

Note that IMUNE requires that where device facilities are part of the training that the teacher is IMUNE Qualified.

Expert International License.

These are practitioner level courses leading to a IMUNE International License Quantum Therapist Expert. The total requirements of 200 credits are made up of:

- core or mandatory modules (150 credits)
- option modules (50 credits)

Modules can also be taken for CEU's, study certificates or just the educational content. Several topic areas may be combined into a module. The course structure will be available July 2006.

These modules will be taught by experts in the module and the use of the EPFX-SCIO-QXCI in this area.

Contact expert@imune.net for details

Core Modules

These will cover major areas including Biological Terrain, Chinese medicine, Homeopathy, Homotoxicology, Nutrition, Emotional Growth.

Option Modules

These enable practitioners to develop skills in specific areas.

Body Systems Education

The focus of Natural Medicine is on treating the terrain disturbance i.e. system and organ weaknesses and not specific diseases. These focused modules intend to place the disturbance of specific disturbances in context of specific body systems.. Several related topic areas may be integrated into one module.

Disturbances in Context

Disturbances often show in the weakest system or organ. Education modules will be considered for important focal areas.

Specialist Modules

Therapists may have a specific modality that their practise is focused on. IMUNE will recognise specific courses and issue tailored qualifications for substantial courses in areas such as animals. The qualification will reflect the subject expertise: International License Quantum Biofeedback- Animals Specialist.

Study certificates

Students can take any module for learning (rather than qualification). IMUNE can offer Study Recognition Certificates, CEU's and License Credits for approved courses.

Advanced Technical Qualifications

The program and facilities are vast: practitioner, therapist and expert qualifications fulfil many requirements. IMUNE also wants to support the learning of users that are already competent in homeopathy, acupuncture, nutrition etc. and want to ensure that they can access quality knowledge and be examined on specific program areas. This will be developed. Exams will be available during July with matched home study material.

Operating Courses

IMUNE seeks to support the development of quality advanced training and has established a review and accreditation process. There are a range of Qualifications that can be linked

The course may be live, distance learning, on line or part of a seminar. You may operate it yourself or IMUNE can assist in operating and hosting on line. There is a feedback system. The primary IMUNE interest is a quality syllabus. Presenters also need to meet criteria.

Courses should offer an on line technical exam and case studies, clinical submissions etc. as appropriate. IMUNE will operate the on line exam. The student may enrol directly with IMUNE or it may be via a voucher as part of the course (preferred). An IMUNE qualification document can be issued and the type will be agreed according to the course. e.g. an International License for a stand alone comprehensive topic e.g. animals (generally 100 hours study) whereas for less comprehensive courses credits towards a license or other study recognition/certification can be offered.
