

The International Medical University of Natural Education

Courses, Examinations and Qualifications

Summary for Students

The key aspects of the IMUNE process are:

1. Establishing a credible qualification for practitioner protection.
2. Issuing, via a government authorised University, International Licenses.
3. Providing health professionals with International Licenses which intrinsically carry more credibility with the public and in Law.
4. Setting and monitoring consistent standards
5. Providing the platform for grandfathering into future regulation.

IMUNE has to date issued several hundred International Licenses as Quantum Biofeedback Practitioner/Therapist and there are now some 20 Imune Internationally Licensed Device Trainers/Instructors.

The on line examination system is fully operational and the website is packed with information- including support materials. An educational resource site is also under construction to provide comprehensive access to learning support materials.

The educational and International Licensing steps available are:

- Biofeedback- a foundational qualification.
- Quantum Biofeedback Practitioner-Therapist: to establish general competence in Quantum Biofeedback. Practitioner is seen as the minimum safe level of competence for basic biofeedback practise. Therapist recognises a deeper level of competence and is the preferred minimum for effective practise, enabling deeper use and integration into clinical practise of Quantum Biofeedback.
- Expert: to develop practitioner skills to a high level of expertise. This will lead to a qualification of Quantum Naturopath (or similar). Topics will include Digestion, Nutrition, Homeopathy, Biological Terrain, Structure, Homeotoxicology. 200 credits will be required- 150 from mandatory modules and 50 from user selected modules.
- Specialist: expertise in specific areas e.g. animals, cosmetology.

IMUNE recognises that there are many experienced practitioners and has a grandfathering system in operation- details below.

Biofeedback

In the USA the “safety net” route has been conscious biofeedback with an NBCB exam and certificate. IMUNE recognises that some USA users may want this- outside America the IMUNE International License qualification will become acceptable and also in time within America. The EPFX-SCIO is based on advanced (unconscious) biofeedback and this element has been included in the IMUNE International License Biofeedback.

Biofeedback is the first step and is needed for the higher Quantum Biofeedback qualifications.

The conscious and unconscious exams are separated and a NBCB Certificate can be upgraded to an IMUNE International License Biofeedback via the unconscious on line exam.

Quantum Biofeedback Practitioner-Therapist

Grandfathering

1. Users that have a qualification equivalent to practitioner/therapist via an issued certificate or a history of education and clinical experience (2-3 years) can apply for grandfathering before 31st Dec. 2006.
2. Users that have taken Level 1 prior to 30th June 2006 and complete Level 2/3 with certification from an IMUNE Licensed Trainer/Instructor fulfil and all other obligations before 31st Dec. 2006 can apply for grandfathering.

Grandfathering means that the exams do not need to be taken for the initial License issuance- they do need to be taken within 1 year. Case studies/education handouts are not mandatory if adequate evidence of expertise is available, but will be reviewed if submitted.

Trainers and Instructors

Instructors teach groups- instructors 1:1 or a few at once. The educational requirements have been set by QX/Ecllosion who contract IMUNE to operate the process. Requirements are Therapist Qualification, teaching ability, recorded session, question session, 4 on line exams. Again grandfathering applies.

IMUNE will only recognise modules for qualifications taught by Qualified trainers/instructors.

Device Sellers

It is not yet mandatory but is highly recommended that, in order to correctly portray the device operation, role and potential that net-workers hold practitioner level qualification and have taken and passed the Instructors exam.

FAQ's- Frequently Asked Questions

Can I enrol just for the Therapist

Yes. You must do all the training and exams. There is an option to have a certificate for each stage (Biofeedback, Practitioner).

Can I take the exams etc. progressively?

Yes. The exams are in small modules that take 30-60 minutes each.

Must I have classroom training?

It is not mandatory: much of the learning can be done via distance learning (DVD's, manuals, on line classes etc.) Classroom training IMUNE licensed Device Trainer is recommended wherever possible- some is essential as experience shows that there are misunderstandings that need a classroom environment to explain, and there are always questions.

Who can operate the training courses?

It is in the student's interest to take courses operated by trainers (independent or part of an organisation) who have the QX-Ecllosion Device Trainers License.

Who does the clinical observation?

The Device Observation Session is best done in class. Clinical case study submissions will be simple recordings of a session according to a provided format. They are assessed by an IMUNE Licensed Trainer.

What is the easiest way?

Enrol for Therapist with the option of Biofeedback and Practitioner Certificates as you progress.

Exams-

There are review exams for home study. The on line exams are multiple choice. Pass mark is 85% with distinction at 95%- this is also the score required for trainers/instructors.
